

Our Account Managers are people who love providing service.

Do you have to know logistics? Sure, if you have knowledge in logistics this is a huge advantage, especially in global logistics. But we wonder if you love human interaction. It is our key success factor.

We deliver your promises

Can we count on you? You will get our most precious asset, our client's activity, will you be responsible enough?

Will you invest the time to understand their needs?

Will you listen to our partners? To your team associates?

How is your English? How do you handle new technologies?

Do you dream? Do you have hobbies? Do you create?

If you find global supply chain management challenging, come join us, we promise it is going to be great journey.
